Art Unit: 1746

1. In view of Applicant's remarks filed November 13, 2006, the Final Rejection dated October 19, 2006 is hereby withdrawn.
2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Brown (U. S. Pat. No. 729,536).

Re claim 1, Brown is cited disclosing a device for holding an article during cleaning with a cleaning liquid, comprising:

a selectably opened porous basket (15) having an interior operable for entry of the cleaning liquid;

a grasping member (28) affixed to the interior of the basket; and a handle (34) attached to the basket. The intended use of cleaning jewelry is of no patentable weight since there are no limitations in the body of the claim to limit the device of cleaning jewelry only.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1746

5. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Michaelson et al. (U. S. Pat. No. 6,534,000) in view of either Japan'719 (Japan 2002-325719) or Kraft et al. (U. S. Pat. No. 6,713,029).

Re claim 3, Michaelson is cited disclosing a device for holding an article during cleaning comprising:

an enclosure (10) means selectively opened to insert an article;

a grasping (40) means attached inside the enclosure for selectively holding the article at a fixed orientation relative to the enclosure; and manually positioning the enclosure means at a selected orientation (vertical or horizontal, see abstract and col. 7, lines 24-26) to a stream of high-pressure steam that differs from the claim only in the recitation of the handle for manually orientating the enclosure. Japan'719 and Kraft are each cited disclosing the arrangement of an enclosure where there the same is provided with a handle. It therefore would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the device of Michaelson, to include a handle as taught by either Japan'719 or Kraft, for the purpose of easy handling/maneuvering the enclosure during the cleaning process. It is understood that the enclosure is to be inserted in a chamber for exposure of steam (fig. 7) and the employment of a handle structure would help to facilitate the process.

6. Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Claims 6-8 are allowed.
